

Contents

Volume 15, Number 1 (#81)

Fall 2005

9 Editorial Notes

9 Democracy and education: uneasy bedfellows

Marita Moll

13 Viewpoints

13 Foolin' with our schoolin'

Justin Woza Goldenthal-Walters

18 History as adult entertainment

Desmond Morton

23 Tapped and wired

Ember Swift

25 Democratic dogma: There is no one-size-fits-all approach to schooling for democracy

Joel Westheimer

41 Three dimensions of educational democratization: The Citizen School Project of Porto Alegre

José Clóvis de Azevedo and Daniel Schugurensky

59 Democratic possibilities for educational policy-making: A comparison of Ontario and Porto Alegre

Laura Pinto

-
- 75 Education for character is not education for citizenship
Barbara Hillman
- 81 From Nova Scotia to England: The frontier of Children's Rights Education
Brian Howe
- 89 From England
Report from the Citizenship Education Longitudinal Study: Trust must be rebuilt in the young
David Kerr
- 95 This will not stop
A photo essay by musiconwallz
- 101 From Other Media
101 Drawing students into society's conversations
Heather Menzies
- 106 Can schools be value-free zones?
Heather-jane Robertson
- 109 LIVE8 debate
109 LIVE8: A retrospective
Samantha Moonsammy
- 120 How deep is the citizenship? How loud is the music?
Larry Kuehn

127 The University Front
127 Rock the vote BC: If voting could change anything...
Nathan Allen

135 A kind of distance
A poem by Ellen Drennan

137 From Alberta
Elusive character(s): Alberta teachers as the lost subjects of citizenship education
Jean-Claude Couture